

DRYING LAUNDRY

There is absolutely nothing better than the sweet smell of sun dried clothing fresh off the clothesline. It is the best way to get dried the laundry in the fresh air. Clothes and sheets smell fresh without additional chemical laundry fresheners. This is particularly important for those sensitive to perfumes and dyes used in detergents and dryer products.

There are few points that needs to be considered :

- Line drying laundry conserves energy and helps to protect the environment by saving precious fossil fuels. It is the pinnacle of green laundry! Simply you can use your balcony.
- If your balcony is not suitable then you can use a drying hanger instead.
- Before hanging your clothes, make sure you clean the drying lines to avoid any possible stain. Wipe down your clothesline before each use.
- To lessen wrinkles, give each item a good shake and once it is pinned to the line, give the bottom corners a good tug to pull out more wrinkles.
- Try to avoid direct sunlight. Otherwise you may face discolouring. It is more important to have a good breeze than it is to have direct sunlight.
- Hang dresses from the shoulders if straight, from the hem if it has a full or gathered skirt, or from hangers if possible (hangers mean less wrinkles) . Hang shorts and pants/trousers by the waistband on the line if you want to minimize wrinkles.
- Try to avoid hanging clothes in a very windy weather. A very windy day is hard on clothes in the same way that a dryer is hard on clothes, and there is an increased risk of clothes catching on wire, plants, and anything else abutting the clothesline and ripping.

DRYING SENSITIVE LAUNDRY

- You must use a special drying method for jerseys.
- You must not mangle dry the laundry you washed on hand.
- As an option you can keep them for a while between 2 towels to keep the reserved water.

REMOVING SMELLS FROM CLOTHING

- Hang clothing in the open air immediately after washing and allow to air out. This will help remove smoke, fumes, and smells trapped in your clothing.
- Make sure there is enough space between clothes to enable the air circulation to prevent the humidity.
- To remove the smell of damp, you need to rewash the clothing. Besides, you can add an uncoloured vinegar or baking soda to the cleanser.

DRYING LAUNDRY INDOORS

- Keep the window open where you dry your laundry for air circulation.
- Get a drying rack if you decide to dry the clothes inside.
